Discussion topic for defense:

- 1) The cash flow is forecasted under the assumption that PSC and PPP alternative are mutually identical from the perspective of Investment and Operating flows. Are these flows in expected values? Is this in expected values likely? If the investment and operating flows are identical, under which circumstances the PPP alternative could be better?
- 2) You critically commented weaknesses of the chosen method of evaluation at the end of the thesis. Could you emphasize more, what is the biggest methodological weakness and how do you think it could/should be corrected?
- 3) What consequences you would expect in practice, if the methodological guide used in your thesis is widely applied on projects?

Master Thesis is recommended for the defense
